

Christmas Shopping Brings Happiness And Tired Feet

Dorothy Bingham, 1763 Brown Ave., Cornwells Heights, Bensalem Township, pores over her Christmas shopping list before making the long trek to the stores. Almost complete, that last item on the list is really the puzzler. What would I want I wouldn't buy for myself?

A few gifts in tow, Dorothy looks in a store window for more presents. They're all so big and pretty. I know what I want. If only I can find the right kind and color. There it is! Just the right thing.

Shopping done, Dorothy heads home with arms full and shopping bags bulging. Christmas shopping is one of the happiest times of the year—if it is one of the most tiring. Packages are heavy but hearts are light. Dorothy still faces the task of wrapping the gifts. It's all a part of the holiday spirit.

Dorothy smiles at the perky Scottie pup she bought for that special Someone. Soon he'll go under the brightly printed wrapping paper too. Gift wrapping is almost done. Christmas shopping for this year will soon be a thing of the past. Hundreds of Lower Bucks Countians still have that "one last gift to buy." Better hurry. Only four more shopping days left. PRESIDENT SEES 'WAR' LESS LIKELY

Good Evening!

Pleasant springish zephyrs.

They're nice. But maybe the weatherman could be driving up with just enough white to make it a mite easier for Dasher, Danter, Prancer, etc., that very, very special night before you know what?

A billion little kids know you know what and suddenly, every one of 'em a perfect angel.

Well, we've been telling you for a month and we're coming to the end of the line: Just four more shopping days. Better start hustling with the bustling.

NATO nations do a sudden reverse and agree in principle with President Eisenhower to gird Europe for push-button rocket warfare — in addition, of course, to cautiously approaching Russia on fresh negotiations.

Outwardly, the Paris conference appears a success after all, and a thrilling Allied vote of confidence for Mr. Eisenhower. After all of the conferring is finished, however, we dunno.

And we see where contracts on the Delaware channel project have been suspended pending re-examination of the $9 million improvement in light of an expanded defense budget.

Somebody got their wires crossed somewhere, and the whole eastern part of the United States should be jumping on Washington's neck over that snafu. Nearly time the budgeteers understand this Delaware job is nearly as important to the defense of America as an ICBM.

Okay, it's no secret — we're right smack in the Christmas season when the hurrying, scurrying and excitement are reaching the usual Yuletide fever pitch. Okay, are you being careful with your driving?

Use your own discretion about Christmas spirit. Just make sure it doesn't come from a bottle when you're hurtling a 4,000 pound steel missile along the streets and highways.

By the way, did you hear about the Texan who gave his son a chemistry set for Christmas? ... the DuPont company.

Forty years ago it took only 100 horsepower to keep a combat airplane in the air. Today it takes 290 horsepower just to carry the 118-pound wife to the supermarket.

With the driving, take it easy.

Bristol's bulging Post Office broke another Christmas record yesterday, and accepted the help of the U.S. Navy in delivering the overwhelming load of mail.

YMCA Elects Landreth To Presidency

David Landreth, owner of the Bristol Seed Co. and member of an old and prominent Bristol family, this week was elected president of the Lower Bucks County

Landreth, who lives at 1024 Radcliffe St., has been active in YMCA work for 15 years. He was chairman of the former Bristol advisory board, and served as vice president of the lower Bucks YMCA from its founding May 1, 1954.

He has assumed the leadership of the Lower Bucks "Y" at a time when the group is preparing to set in motion plans to finance and build a large YMCA building to serve the rapidly growing area.

NATO Meeting Ends

PARIS (UP)—President Eisenhower said today at the conclusion of the NATO summit conference that he thought the decisions it reached made "war less likely, peace more sure."

The President said he also felt the four-day meeting had made for "a stronger North Atlantic alliance."

Western debates to the final session of the meeting announced today they had agreed on a two-way approach to the Soviet Union to resume the deadlocked disarmament talks.

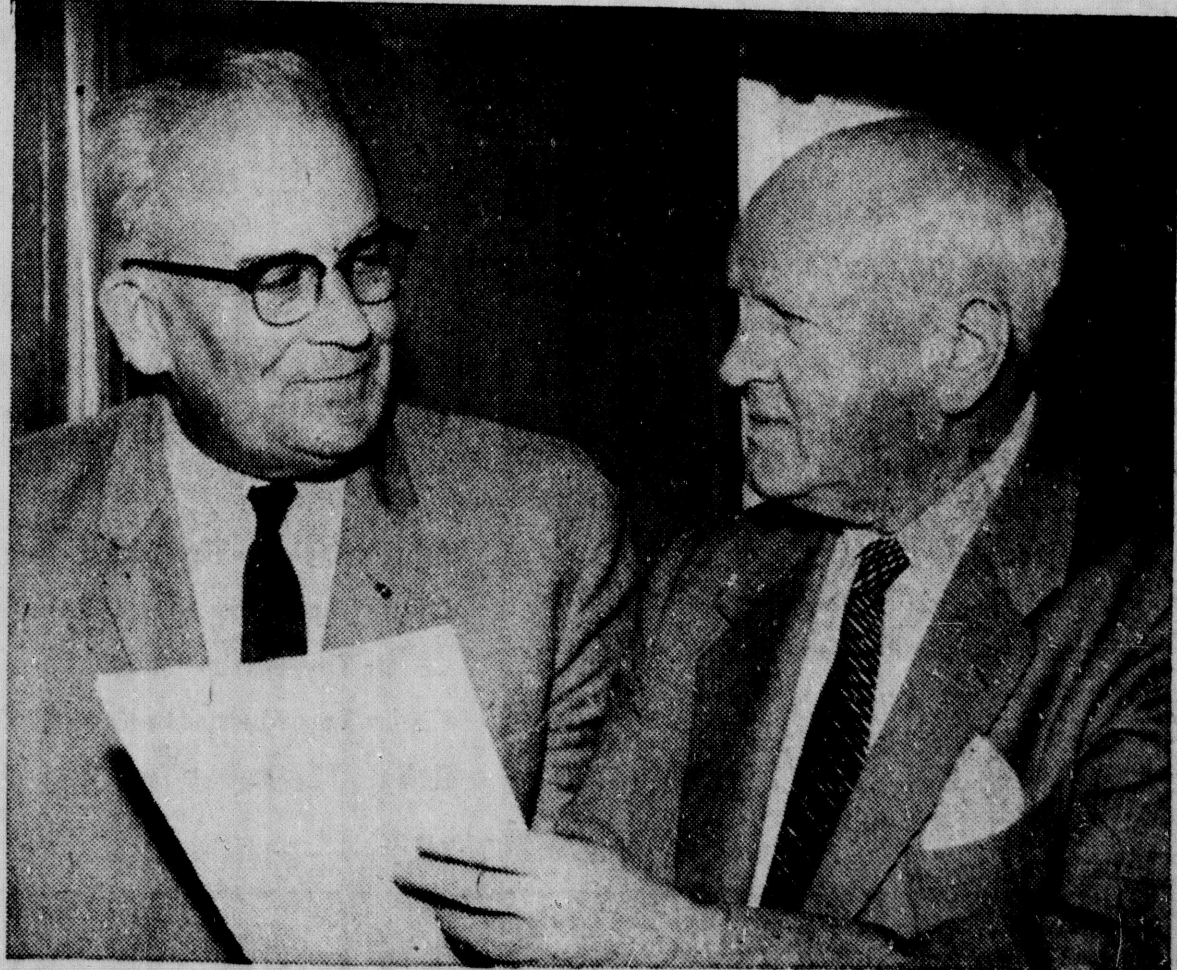

Addressing his NATO colleagues in the closing phases of the final NATO Council meeting in the Palais de Chaillot, Eisenhower said he recognized there were certain differences of detail among the 15 member states that could not be "surmounted completely."

The President's own attendance at the conference had done much to dispel the gloom that preceded it among Western European nations in the face of Soviet rocket and Sputnik successes.

Jack Ward Arrested 2nd Time, Jailed

Jack Ward, 289 Crabtree Drive, Levittown, is in Bucks County Prison, Doylestown, today, on a neighbor's charge that he violated the Bristol Township dog law.

This is the second time this month Ward, temporary chairman of the Bristol Township Active Democrats, has been arrested on the same type of charge.

Refused Bail Bond

He was committed to Bucks County Prison by JP Earl B. Dougherty, of Edgely, in lieu of $50 bail. Dougherty said he offered to release Ward, who is a political opponent, on his own recognizance. However, Ward refused to sign the bail bond, Dougherty said.

"I had no other choice but to send him to jail until the hearing," Dougherty said.

This morning Ward's attorney, Peter J. Verderame, petitioned the Bucks County Court to grant a Habeas Corpus and set bail for Ward.

Hearing Scheduled

The court refused on the grounds that Dougherty had already set bail and had scheduled a hearing for 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Verderame, in his petition, said he advised Ward not to post bail with Dougherty because he felt a justice of the peace did not have the right to set bail on a violation of a township ordinance.

Ward was arrested at his home last night on a warrant issued by Dougherty. Dougherty issued the warrant on a complaint of Joseph Ruffi, of 304 Crabtree Drive, Levittown. The complaint states that Ward let his dog, a three-year-old boxer run loose on May 28 and June 20.

Ward was arrested on Dec. 2 on complaint of Daniel Potter, township dog catcher. Potter filed the complaint June 20 with Dougherty.

On Dec. 2, Ward was arrested just 15 minutes before he was scheduled to chair a meeting of a new Democratic group formed in opposition to the Bristol Township Democratic organization.

Dougherty is chairman of the Democratic Organization.

The Bristol Township Board of Commissioners moved into the picture last week when it ordered Potter to withdraw the charges filed against Ward.

Dougherty said this angered Ruffi, who had complained to

Authority Rejects Plan To Cut Pay

The members of the Lower Bucks County Joint Municipal Authority rejected a proposal to cut their own salaries, it was disclosed at last night's meeting.

The proposal was first made at the Nov. 21 meeting by Sallie Fisher, secretary of the authority. Action on the suggestion was postponed at that time until a later meeting.

The six members of the authority, including Miss Fisher are now paid $2,500 a year. She suggested that the pay for the chairman, Charles Lucisano, the treasurer, William Seyfert, and herself as secretary be cut $700 to $1,800.

The other three members, who she contends do little more than attend monthly meetings, would be reduced to $1,200 a year.

In other business at last night's meeting the members voted to conduct further tests on the wells which are used as a water source during periods of heavy demands.

Minerals in the water cause many complaints from residents when the wells are being used. The authority members want to see if the wells can be used next summer. If the amount of mineral is too great the authority will have to erect a water treatment plant at an estimated cost of $200,000.

Lions Club Readies Yule Party Plans

Last - minute arrangements were being completed today for the Levittown Lions Christmas party for members' children.

The party, to be held tomorrow night at 6:30 o'clock at Faith Reformed Church, will include entertainment, gifts, refreshment and a personal visit from Santa Claus.

Louis Andress, a professional magician, will entertain the children.

Chairman of the party committee is Sandy Oppenheimer. Members of the committee are Ralph Howell, Martin Klingele, Charlie Abell, George Morris, Amos Farruggio and Dick LaRue.

Members of the committee have been asked to be at the Faith Reformed Church at 6 p.m.

Wives of the members are bringing cakes or cookies.

The President told the windup session of the NATO council that because of the "fundamental unity" of the Atlantic Pact nations "we either surmount our difficulties or accommodate them."

In a statement prepared for public release he said, "I leave with mixed regret and gladness."

He said he was sorry he could not stay longer "in this land of many of my warmest memories and friendships."

"But I am happy that our work here has been conducted frankly, in friendship and cooperation and a unity of effort and purpose has been strengthened," he said.

Peace More Sure

"The decisions promised far-reaching results and should make war less likely, peace more sure."

"We must now carry forward the results of our deliberation here."

"I return home confident that the American people, like the people of all the NATO nations, will endorse and support the decisions made here for a stronger North Atlantic alliance."

"Goodbye. See you again."

School Officials Plan Meeting With Clark

School and community leaders in Lower Bucks County will meet with Sen. Joseph Clark in Philadelphia Dec. 30 to set up a meeting in the area to discuss financial problems of education, Medill Bair, regional superintendent of Pennsylvania Schools, said yesterday.

Bair said that the group will include Harry H. Lee, Jr., president of the Bucks County Technical School Joint Board and a member of the Morrisville Board of Education; Oliver Heckman, Neshaminy regional school superintendent; Bradshaw Snipes, president of the Falls Township School Board; and Jerome Levy, president of the Makefield Parent-Teacher Association.

Bair said that Senator Clark had been approached as a public official "who is deeply concerned with the problems of education and the part the federal government might play in helping us."

He said the meeting in this area would include a discussion of problems at the local and state level.

When A Feller Needs A Friend

The little Fox Terrier shows big appealing eyes from her home at the SPCA shelter in Lahaska. The dog, a female, is about a year and-a-half old, and is looking for someone to adopt her. Each Christmas persons from all over Lower Bucks County visit the pound and pick out a gentle pup for their child.

The Blue Tick Coon Hound is perfect for hunters and boys who love the outdoors. This fellow, one of nine pups from the same litter, is available for adoption from the SPCA shelter in Lahaska. The pups are about three months old, and are at the right age to take into the fields for hunting training.

This female Dalmatian, about a year old, looks longingly for someone to love and care for her. The pound at Lahaska also has another Dalmatian, a male, about 2 or 3 years old. Both are up for adoption. All dogs will make nice Christmas gifts for children.

These appealing pups, part Spitz, part Boxer, scramble up the wire fence of their home at the Lahaska shelter. The playful canines will fit right into the schedule of active young folks who love to romp. The dogs, both females, are about one and-a-half years old. The pound also has a male Spitz available for adoption. Persons wanting one of these pups need only to go to the pound, pick him out, and promise to give him a good home. (Courier-Times Photos).

Funds OK For This Fiscal Year

The District Engineer's statement appeared to contradict an announcement by the U.S. Defense Department last night that the channel work will be delayed. Col. Powers explained that there are no new contracts to be awarded before the new fiscal year.

Contractors for the Army Engineers are at work on the channel, and have dredged upstream to within 1,500 feet of the mouth of Neshaminy Creek.

All contracts which were planned for the current fiscal year, ending next June, 30, are now under way or have been completed, Col. Powers said. American Dredging Co. has completed two contracts, for $1,500,000 and $7,185,000 to deepen the channel offshore from Philadelphia.

Western Contracting Corp. has $3,586,575 channel contract from Holmesburg to Cornwells Heights. Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Co., digging the river bed from Cornwells Heights to the mouth of the Neshaminy, has completed 75 percent of the work in its $3,479,294 contract.

It is anticipated that the dredging contracts will be completed during this fiscal year, Col. Powers said, and that progress on the Delair bridge will continue as scheduled. In view of the fact that no additional new contracts are contemplated during this fiscal year, the officer said, the operations for the deep channel are not affected by the Budget Bureau directive.

However, Col. Powers said, the entire civil works program will need to be reviewed and it cannot be anticipated at this time whether or not the budget restrictions for economy on a national basis will have any marked effect in future fiscal years.

was 217,530 cancellations on December 17, 1956.

Some 250 workers have been pressed into service at the main post office on Beaver St., the Levittown sub-station, the Farragut avenue annex and the special annex at 912 Pond St.

Two Army trucks from the Reserve Center on Radcliffe St., two hired trucks and two station wagons, with the Navy vehicle, are supplementing the red, white and blue mail trucks and the rural carriers' cars. The Army and Navy trucks were provided at no cost to the Post Office.

Another Christmas innovation, new this year in Lower Bucks, is Operation Santa Claus. In this operation letters are delivered immediately by truck to district offices, including one at Langhorne, then go immediately to smaller Post Offices in the vicinity to be delivered.

The expanded hours at the Bristol Post Office, its annex and branch extend to 6 p.m. from now through Christmas Eve. Sunday the Post Office will be open from 2 to 5 p.m. Carriers are making two or more deliveries daily throughout the Bristol-Levittown area.

going to the home of an aunt and uncle in Bethlehem.

The Raics know no English but the brightness of their expression leave little doubt that they are happy to be in the United States, away from strife-torn Hungary.

The youthful - looking Louis worked at a power station as an electrician in Hungary when the revolt against the Reds began. He participated in the revolt but to stay meant jeopardizing his life, and he and Erzebet fled in to Yugoslavia, where they have been waiting for nearly a year to get to this country.

Arrange Flight

Through an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Nagy, of Bethlehem, they were able to arrange transportation on a chartered plane. Mrs. Raics was pregnant but told no one of the imminent birth, fearing it would delay her flight to freedom. The plane was forced to make an emergency landing in Ireland, where Erzebet gave birth to their son at the airport clinic. In two and one-half hours they were off and landed at Idlewild Airport, New York City on Dec. 11. Mrs. Raics has since been confined to St. Peter's Hospital, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Herbert Riffert, a cousin to Mrs. Raics, acts as interpreter for the Hungarian family.

She asked Louis how he escaped from Hungary into Yugoslavia. "Illegally," he smiled, "and on back roads."

"My cousin never saw an orange in Hungary," Mrs. Riffert pointed out. "Louis bought some for her while they were in Brooklyn and she liked them very much. They've never had chocolate or chocolate syrup or fruit juice, either," she explained.

Can Opener

Louis and Erzebet, Hungarian for Elizabeth, have never had American hot dogs and are amazed at the American home, its toasters and other electrical appliances, and automobiles. "Even a can opener fascinates them," Mrs. Riffert said.

Mrs. Sakaly said "Erzebet and Louis and their child will not get lost. They have four aunts in the United States and won't be lonely."

Their uncle in Bethlehem has been hospitalized and expects to be released on Tuesday. Mrs. Riffert explained that the Raics, with their precious offspring, will probably move to Bethlehem early next week.

Young Hero Saves Infant

A teenage boy became a hero in Bristol Township yesterday but left before anyone could learn his identity.

He pulled a baby from the Delaware Canal near Route 13 and Haines Road, near Jack's Store. The baby's mother was shopping in the store at about 2 p.m.

A store employee said the infant, about 2 years old, apparently wandered off and fell into the water. The employee saw the boy pull the baby from the water. The rescuer returned the baby to its mother, then left.

The baby was wet and frightened, but unharmed.

Heat Mark Could Fall In L. Bucks Today

A 62-year-old record heat mark for this date may fall today under a mass of warm air rising over Lower Bucks from the south.

The Weather Bureau at Trenton said the readings may hit the 60's today and possibly reach the 1895 mark of 64 for the third day.

Yesterday's high was 45 at 3 p.m. with this morning's low 34 at 7 a.m.

Polio Clinic Slated At L. Bucks Hospital

The third series of Polio Clinics at Lower Bucks County Hospital will be Jan. 8, 9, and 10 between 1 and 8 p.m.

Inoculations will be $1 per person.

This will be the 3rd clinic sponsored by the Medical staff of Lower Bucks County Hospital in cooperation with the Bucks County Department of Health and the Bucks County Medical Society.

Persons who received their first or second polio inoculations in the April or May clinics will be eligible. The same dosage is used for all three.

Persons wishing to take advantage of the clinics should fill out forms which will be available at the Bucks County Department of Health office, 50 Quarry Road, Levittown, the Bristol Borough Police office, and at the front lobby information desk or the Outpatient cashiers desk at Lower Bucks County Hospital.

Hospital officials urge all who come to the clinic to bring these completed forms, since this makes it possible to speed up the clinic, an important factor in view of the winter weather.

Doctors of the Medical staff, the Women's Auxiliary, hospital nurses and office personnel and nurses from the Bucks County Health Department will volunteer their time as before to make the clinic possible. In the first clinic series 8,519 persons received immunization. Over 10,000 persons visited the second clinic.

Preliminary Plans For 2 Schools OK'd

The Bristol Township School Board last night approved preliminary plans for two new 20-room elementary schools at a special meeting last night.

The schools would be built in the Plumbridge and Oaktree Hollow sections of Levittown.

The board instructed the architect to have final plans ready for bidding by the middle of February. The board wants the schools completed by beginning of the 1959-60 school year.

In other actions the board interviewed three attorneys who are under consideration for the post as solicitor. The attorneys are Marvin Cohen, Edwin Popkins and Samuel Glantz. No one was appointed last night.

"The prison board is prohibited by law from concluding a legal contract which would bind any future prison board to the terms which might be agreed upon as a result of such negotiation," according to the resolution.

"It would not be to the advantage an honest interests of parties concerned to recognize any organization as the sole and exclusive bargaining agent for the employees of the Bucks County Prison," the board members concluded.

Top salary for Bucks County prison guards is $3,420 a year. The guards are asking for the same rate as Philadelphia guards.

Jack Ward Arrested 2nd Time, Jailed

Jack Ward, 289 Crabtree Drive, Levittown, is in Bucks County Prison, Doylestown, today, on a neighbor's charge that he violated the Bristol Township dog law.

This is the second time this month Ward, temporary chairman of the Bristol Township Active Democrats, has been arrested on the same type of charge.

Refused Bail Bond

He was committed to Bucks County Prison by JP Earl B. Dougherty, of Edgely, in lieu of $50 bail. Dougherty said he offered to release Ward, who is a political opponent, on his own recognizance. However, Ward refused to sign the bail bond, Dougherty said.

"I had no other choice but to send him to jail until the hearing," Dougherty said.

This morning Ward's attorney, Peter J. Verderame, petitioned the Bucks County Court to grant a Habeas Corpus and set bail for Ward.

Hearing Scheduled

The court refused on the grounds that Dougherty had already set bail and had scheduled a hearing for 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Verderame, in his petition, said he advised Ward not to post bail with Dougherty because he felt a justice of the peace did not have the right to set bail on a violation of a township ordinance.

Ward was arrested at his home last night on a warrant issued by Dougherty. Dougherty issued the warrant on a complaint of Joseph Ruffi, of 304 Crabtree Drive, Levittown. The complaint states that Ward let his dog, a three-year-old boxer run loose on May 28 and June 20.

Ward was arrested on Dec. 2 on complaint of Daniel Potter, township dog catcher. Potter filed the complaint June 20 with Dougherty.

On Dec. 2, Ward was arrested just 15 minutes before he was scheduled to chair a meeting of a new Democratic group formed in opposition to the Bristol Township Democratic organization.

Dougherty is chairman of the Democratic Organization.

The Bristol Township Board of Commissioners moved into the picture last week when it ordered Potter to withdraw the charges filed against Ward.

Dougherty said this angered Ruffi, who had complained to Potter about the dog last summer.

As a result Ruffi filed a citizens complaint against Ward.

Ward's attorney, Peter J. Verderame, said he would ask the county courts to release Ward under a habeas corpus. He said he advised Ward not to sign his bail bond so he could take the issue to the county court.

Authority Rejects Plan To Cut Pay

The members of the Lower Bucks County Joint Municipal Authority rejected a proposal to cut their own salaries, it was disclosed at last night's meeting.

The proposal was first made at the Nov. 21 meeting by Sallie Fisher, secretary of the authority. Action on the suggestion was postponed at that time until a later meeting.

The six members of the authority, including Miss Fisher are now paid $2,500 a year. She suggested that the pay for the chairman, Charles Lucisano, the treasurer, William Seyfert, and herself as secretary be cut $700 to $1,800.

The other three members, who she contends do little more than attend monthly meetings, would be reduced to $1,200 a year.

In other business at last night's meeting the members voted to conduct further tests on the wells which are used as a water source during periods of heavy demands.

Minerals in the water cause many complaints from residents when the wells are being used. The authority members want to see if the wells can be used next summer. If the amount of mineral is too great the authority will have to erect a water treatment plant at an estimated cost of $200,000.

Members of the committee have been asked to be at the Faith Reformed Church at 6 p.m.

Wives of the members are bringing cakes or cookies.

The President told the windup session of the NATO council that because of the "fundamental unity" of the Atlantic Pact nations "we either surmount our difficulties or accommodate them."

In a statement prepared for public release he said, "I leave with mixed regret and gladness."

He said he was sorry he could not stay longer "in this land of many of my warmest memories and friendships."

"But I am happy that our work here has been conducted frankly, in friendship and cooperation and a unity of effort and purpose has been strengthened," he said.

Peace More Sure

"The decisions promised far-reaching results and should make war less likely, peace more sure."

"We must now carry forward the results of our deliberation here."

"I return home confident that the American people, like the people of all the NATO nations, will endorse and support the decisions made here for a stronger North Atlantic alliance."

"Goodbye. See you again."

School Officials Plan Meeting With Clark

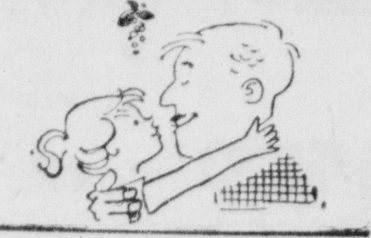

School and community leaders in Lower Bucks County will meet with Sen. Joseph Clark in Philadelphia Dec. 30 to set up a meeting in the area to discuss financial problems of education, Medill Bair, regional superintendent of Pennsylvania Schools, said yesterday.

Bair said that the group will include Harry H. Lee, Jr., president of the Bucks County Technical School Joint Board and a member of the Morrisville Board of Education; Oliver Heckman, Neshaminy regional school superintendent; Bradshaw Snipes, president of the Falls Township School Board; and Jerome Levy, president of the Makefield Parent-Teacher Association.

Bair said that Senator Clark had been approached as a public official "who is deeply concerned with the problems of education and the part the federal government might play in helping us."

He said the meeting in this area would include a discussion of problems at the local and state level.

going to the home of an aunt and uncle in Bethlehem.

The Raics' know no English, but the brightness of their expression leave little doubt that they are happy to be in the United States, away from strife-torn Hungary.

The youthful - looking Louis worked at a power station as an electrician in Hungary when the revolt against the Reds began. He participated in the revolt but to stay meant jeopardizing his life, and he and Erzebet fled into Yugoslavia, where they have been waiting for nearly a year to get to this country.

Arrange Flight

Through an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Nagy, of Bethlehem, they were able to arrange transportation on a chartered plane. Mrs. Raics was pregnant but told no one of the imminent birth, fearing it would delay her flight to freedom. The plane was forced to make an emergency landing in Ireland, where Erzebet gave birth to her son at the airport clinic. In two and one-half hours they were off and landed at Idlewild Airport, New York City on Dec. 11. Mrs. Raics has since been confined to St. Peter's Hospital, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Herbert Riffert, a cousin to Mrs. Raics, acts as interpreter for the Hungarian family.

She asked Louis how he escaped from Hungary into Yugoslavia. "Illegally," he smiled, "and on back roads."

"My cousin never saw an orange in Hungary," Mrs. Riffert pointed out. "Louis bought some for her while they were in Brooklyn and she liked them very much. They've never had chocolate or chocolate syrup or fruit juice, either," she explained.

Can Opener

Louis and Erzebet, Hungarian for Elizabeth, have never had American hot dogs and are amazed at the American home, its toasters and other electrical appliances, and automobiles.

"Even a can opener fascinates them," Mrs. Riffert said.

Mrs. Sakaly said "Erzebet and Louis and their child will not get lost. They have four aunts in the United States and won't be lonely."

Their uncle in Bethlehem has been hospitalized and expects to be released on Tuesday. Mrs. Riffert explained that the Raics, with their precious offspring, will probably move to Bethlehem early next week.

Young Hero Saves Infant

A teenage boy became a hero in Bristol Township yesterday but left before anyone could learn his identity.

He pulled a baby from the Delaware Canal near Route 13 and Haines Road, near Jack's Store. The baby's mother was shopping in the store at about 2 p.m.

A store employee said the infant, about 2 years old, apparently wandered off and fell into the water. The employee saw the boy pull the baby from the water. The rescuer returned the baby to its mother, then left.

The baby was wet and frightened, but unharmed.

When A Feller Needs A Friend

The little Fox Terrier shows big appealing eyes from her home at the SPCA shelter in Lahaska. The dog, a female, is about a year and a-half old, and is looking for someone to adopt her. Each Christmas persons from all over Lower Bucks County visit the pound and pick out a gentle pup for their child.

The Blue Tick Coon Hound is perfect for hunters and boys who love the outdoors. This fellow, one of nine pups from the same litter, is available for adoption from the SPCA shelter in Lahaska. The pups are about three months old, and are at the right age to take into the fields for hunting training.

This female Dalmatian, about a year old, looks longingly for someone to love and care for her. The pound at Lahaska also has another Dalmatian, a male, about 2 or 3 years old. Both are up for adoption. All dogs will make nice Christmas gifts for children.

These appealing pups, part Spitz, part Boxer, scramble up the wire fence of their home at the Lahaska shelter. The playful canines will fit right into the schedule of active young folks who love to romp. The dogs, both females, are about one and a-half years old. The pound also has a male Spitz available for adoption. Persons wanting one of these pups need only to go to the pound, pick him out, and promise to give him a good home. (Courier-Times Photos).

Heat Mark Could Fall
In L. Bucks Today

A 62-year-old record heat mark for this date may fall today under a mass of warm air rising over Lower Bucks from the south.

The Weather Bureau at Trenton said the readings may hit the 60's today and possibly reach the 1895 mark of 64 for the third day.

The weatherman said warm, wet weather would last through Saturday, the first day of winter.

Yesterday's high was 45 at 3 p.m. with this morning's low 34 at 7 a.m.

Inoculations will be $1 per person.

This will be the 3rd clinic sponsored by the Medical staff of Lower Bucks County Hospital in cooperation with the Bucks County Department of Health and the Bucks County Medical Society.

Persons who received their first or second polio inoculations in the April or May clinics will be eligible. Not less than 6 weeks should elapse between the 1st and 2nd shot and not less than 7 months between the second and third. However, up to a year may elapse between inoculations. The same dosage is used for all three.

Persons wishing to take advantage of the clinics should fill out forms which will be available at the Bucks County Department of Health office, 50 Quarry Road, Levittown, the Bristol Borough Police office, and at the front lobby information desk or the Out-patient cashiers desk at Lower Bucks County Hospital.

Funds OK For This Fiscal Year

The District Engineer's statement appeared to contradict an announcement by the U.S. Defense Department last night that the channel work will be delayed. Col. Powers explained that there are no new contracts to be awarded before the new fiscal year.

Contractors for the Army Engineers are at work on the channel, and have dredged upstream to within 1,500 feet of the mouth of Neshaminy Creek.

All contracts which were planned for the current fiscal year, ending next June, 30, are now under way or have been completed. Col. Powers said. American Dredging Co. has completed two contracts, for $1,500,000 and $7,185,000 to deepen the channel offshore from Philadelphia.

Western Contracting Corp. has $3,586,575 channel contract from Holmesburg to Cornwells Heights. Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Co., digging the river bed from Cornwells Heights to the mouth of the Neshaminy, has completed 75 per cent of the work in its $3,479,294 contract.

It is anticipated that the dredging contracts will be completed during this fiscal year. Col. Powers said, and that progress on the Delair bridge will continue as scheduled. In view of the fact that no additional new contracts are contemplated during this fiscal year, the officer said, the operations for the deep channel are not affected by the Budget Bureau directive.

However, Col. Powers said, the entire civil works program will need to be reviewed and it cannot be anticipated at this time whether or not the budget restrictions for economy on a national basis will have any marked effect in future fiscal years.

Some 250 workers have been pressed into service at the main post office on Beaver St., the Levittown sub-station, the Farragut avenue annex and the special annex at 912 Pond St.

Two Army trucks from the Reserve Center on Radcliffe St., two hired trucks and two station wagons, with the Navy vehicle, are supplementing the red, white and blue mail trucks and the rural carriers' cars. The Army and Navy trucks were provided at no cost to the Post Office.

Another Christmas innovation, new this year in Lower Bucks, is Operation Santa Claus. In this operation letters are delivered immediately by truck to district offices, including one at Langhorne, then go immediately to smaller Post Offices in the vicinity to be delivered.

The expanded hours at the Bristol Post Office, its annex and branch extend to 6 p.m. from now through Christmas Eve. Sunday the Post Office will be open from 2 to 5 p.m. Carriers are making two or more deliveries daily throughout the Bristol-Levittown area.
